The American Institute of Certified Planners requires its members to adhere to the ethical standards of a detailed Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct. The principles of the Code are organized under the following headings:

THE PLANNER’S RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PUBLIC
A planner’s primary obligation is to serve the public interest. A planner owes allegiance to a concept of the public interest that is formulated through continuous and open debate.

THE PLANNER’S RESPONSIBILITY TO CLIENTS AND EMPLOYERS
A planner owes diligent, creative, and competent performance of work in pursuit of the client’s or employer’s interest. Such performance should be consistent with the planner’s faithful service to the public interest.

THE PLANNER’S RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PROFESSION AND TO COLLEAGUES
A planner should contribute to the development of the profession by improving knowledge and techniques, making work relevant to solutions of community problems, and increasing public understanding of planning activities.

I pledge that I will conduct myself in accordance with the principles, rules, and other requirements of the AICP Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct.
